Joe Kennedy Dies; Heart Attack Fatal

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Joseph Patrick Kennedy, patriarch of an ill-starred American political dynasty, died today, losing an eight-year struggle for life. He was 81.

JOSEPH KENNEDY

In a brief announcement from the Kennedy family compound on Cape Cod overlooking Nantucket Sound, a family spokesman said death came at 11:05 a.m. (EST).

His wife Rose and other members of the family were with him at the time, the spokesman said.

A financier and one of the nation's wealthiest men, Kennedy had been partially paralyzed since suffering a stroke in Palm Beach, Fla., on Dec. 19, 1961.

The former ambassador had suffered setbacks from time to time since then, and had been

Near Accord On Okinawa

Nuclear Bombs Stumbling Block

WASHINGTON (AP) — An agreement returning Okinawa to Japanese control in 1972 is expected to leave open the question of possible future American use of the U.S. military base on the island for nuclear weapons.

No official announcement has been made on the touchy question of nuclear weapons on Okinawa, but the matter has been settled in principle, according to reliable sources.

Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and President Nixon are to begin talks Wednesday on returning Okinawa to Japan within three years, although it will be Friday before any word of the nuclear issue is released.

It is believed Japan has agreed to permit the effective use of Okinawa as a U.S. base in the event of an emergency involving the defense of Japan and areas vital to the defense of Japan.

What would constitute "effective use" would not be decided until the circumstance arose, and then only after full consultation between the two governments, it was learned. Terms of the agreement are expected to be very general.

It already had been agreed that the military base will remain as a U.S. facility, with the presence of the nuclear weapons the controversial item.

Technical talks were conducted here Monday between Richard Snider, U.S. special minister in charge of Okinawa affairs, and Fumihiko Togo, director general of the American affairs bureau in Japan's ministry of foreign affairs.

A spokesman said afterwards that most of the issues had been resolved. Officially, however, the spokesman said the hard core issue remained—how, when and if nuclear weapons may be used from the U.S. base on the island which the United States has held since late in World War II.

Private Arms Talks Open In Finland

Jovial Mood Marks Session On Atom Bombs

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Awash with conviviality, U.S. and Soviet negotiators began private talks today to search out prospects for an accord to curb the nuclear arms race.

U.S. Ambassador Gerard C. Smith, Soviet delegate Vladimir S. Semenov and their advisers met at the American Embassy to begin working out arrangements for substantive negotiations. These preliminary discussions behind closed doors are expected to last several weeks.

Whether or not the envoys ever get beyond the preliminary round, the sendoff for SALT—Strategic Arms Limitation Talks—is being bathed in official good will and cordiality.

After the formal, champagne-sipping public opening Monday, Finnish Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen entertained the diplomats at a reception.

Finnish President Urho Kekkonen is the host for today's reception. And Wednesday—for the first time in history, U.S. and Soviet delegates are giving a joint party.

At Monday night's affair, Smith told newsmen the talks had "started well." Semenov termed the opening session "very fine" and predicted that would apply to today's meeting too.

However, the negotiators gave no specifics. Both sides have agreed to keep tight secrecy on the substance of the discussions while they are under way.

The envoys have agreed to alternate meetings between the American and Soviet embassies, but how often they will convene is still undecided. The Russians favor daily sessions. The Americans prefer parleys on alternate days, contending this gives time for better preparation.

The chief task of the Helsinki round is to fashion a framework for full-scale negotiations later. Among the negotiators' tasks here, informants said, is to work out what disarmament items should get priority attention when the full-fledged bargaining begins.

A high priority item for the American side is the MIRV—multiple independently targetable re-entry vehicle—the multi-warhead missile which both nations are testing.

The Soviets gave no hint of their priorities during a half-hour meeting on procedures that followed the public opening session Monday, informants said.

Maddox Slates 'Possum Day'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox has proclaimed Saturday Dec. 6 as "Possum Day" in Georgia. That's the second day of the two-day "world's largest possum hunt," planned by officials at Dillard, in the North Georgia mountains.

Maddox's proclamation, signed Monday, says: "Frosty mornings and the fact that possums are ripe in North Georgia offer undeniable proof that it is possum hunting time in Georgia."

"A baked possum with sweet potatoes and saffraas is considered a delicacy by many gourmets."

In the other battle, five miles south of Duc Lap, 30 North Vietnamese were killed while South Vietnamese casualties were seven killed and 11 wounded.

Government forces sweeping the battlefield at Bu Prang reported finding some bodies of North Vietnamese soldiers chained to trees and to each other to keep them from retreating under the onslaught of American firepower. There have been similar reports in the past.

The fighting was touched off when a battalion of 400 South Vietnamese infantrymen on a sweep outside the camp's perimeter came under fire from a woodline.

The government soldiers withdrew after a heavy exchange of rifle and machine-gun fire, and

Astronauts Face Grueling Day

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 12's astronauts, flying the riskiest space flight ever, face a gruelling 20-hour workday that safety rules would forbid to an airline pilot or bus driver.

An airline pilot on a routine flight must rest after eight hours and let someone else take over.

Charles Conrad Jr., and Alan L. Bean must fly for nine hours and still be alert enough to land on the moon and walk its surface in bulky suits. There's no one to take over.

A bus driver crossing the country must knock off after 10 hours. The federal government says that's his safety limit.

Richard F. Gordon Jr. must fly for 19 hours, most of it alone, and still stay fresh enough to perform complex navigation problems while orbiting the moon.

Conrad, Gordon and Bean wake up at 4:22 p.m. EST today. During the next 20 hours, Conrad and Bean will land on the moon, get out of the spacecraft and walk the lunar surface for 3½ hours. Gordon will spend much of the time alone orbiting the moon in a spacecraft that was designed to be operated by three men.

During these 20 hours, each decision and each move must be right. Space is much more forgiving than the hazards faced by the airline pilot or the interstate bus driver.

Space officials said the astronauts spent months building up their endurance for their mission.

Joseph D. Garino, an expert on physical training who keeps the astronauts in shape, said after Conrad learned how long he and his crew would have to work without rest he asked for advice on conditioning.

"I told him to increase his running," said Garino.

Drunkometer Law Upset By High Court

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An appellate court today overturned Ohio's "implied consent" law which permits the Bureau of Motor Vehicles to suspend the license of anyone refusing to consent to a "drunkometer" test.

The controversial law went into effect March 10, 1968 and says that anyone obtaining an Ohio license automatically consents to take a drunkometer test if stopped on suspicion of drunk driving.

Judge Calvin Crawford, of the Second District Court of Appeals here, said the law was "very drastic" because it permits an agency to operate as a court.

The registrar is not a court," he said. "It is an administrative agency and you (the accused driver) have to prove the agency is wrong."

The judge rapped the law as "peculiar" because it routed the appeals first through local municipal courts.

The landmark decision came in the overturning of two cases involving drivers who had their licenses suspended for refusing to take the test.

Rhodes To Return From Israeli Trip

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes was scheduled to return home early today following a nine-day fact-finding trip to Israel.

The governor led a delegation of five governors to the Holy Lands. They stopped off in Rome Monday on the return trip.

more than 20 U.S. F4 and F100 fighter-bombers raked the North Vietnamese troops with bombs, napalm and rockets less than a mile east of the camp perimeter. Some of the North Vietnamese force, estimated at 800 men, were caught in the open.

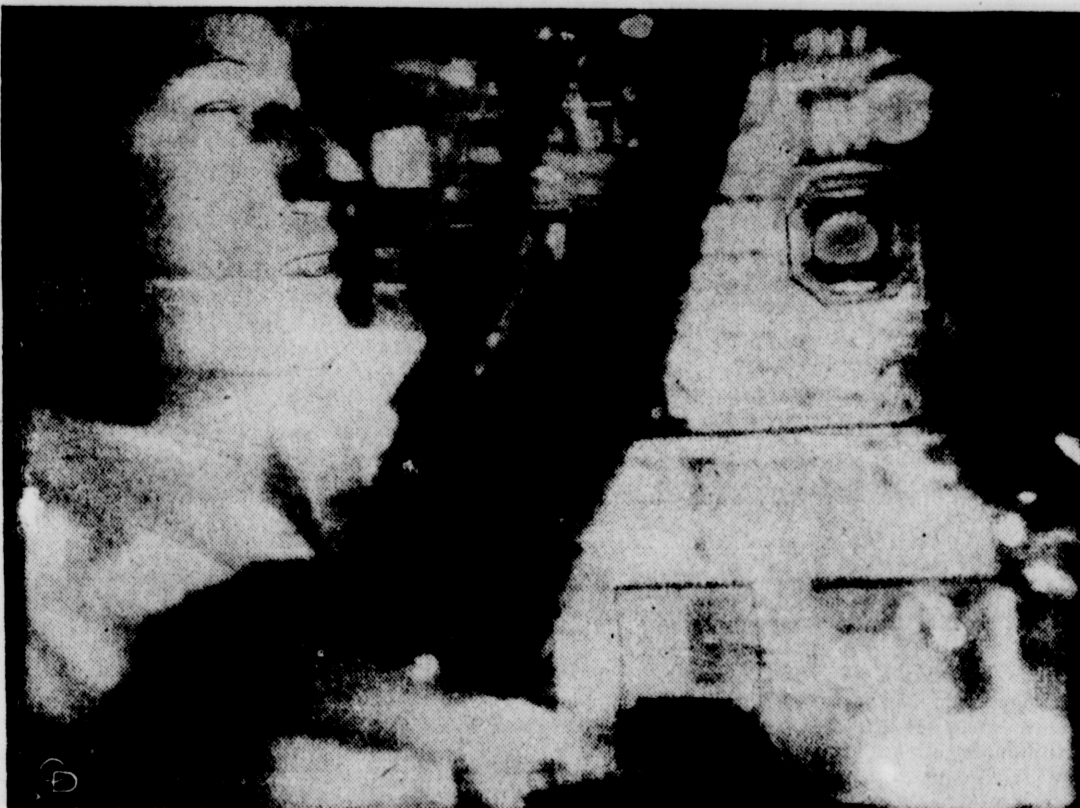

Shortly before dusk the bombardment eased and the South Vietnamese infantrymen again went into the area. Again they encountered stiff resistance, again they pulled back, and the fighter-bombers renewed their attacks in after-dark raids, guided by the light of napalm fires still burning from the earlier strikes.

The North Vietnamese shelled the Bu Prang camp twice today, once at dawn with 40 mortar rounds, then at midmorning with 12 rounds of artillery fired from across the border in Cambodia.

One south Vietnamese soldier was killed and seven government troops and two American advisers were wounded.

SPECTACULAR FROM SPACE — During a telecast from space, astronaut Charles (Pete) Conrad holds an air hose as he takes Earth viewers on a tour of the Apollo 12 Lunar Module heading for the Moon. The instrument panel is in the background.

Heavy Scientific Schedule Planned For Moon Landing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Except for six minutes to erect an American flag and eight minutes to position a color television camera, the Apollo 12 moon explorers plan to devote all their time to science on their first moon walk Wednesday.

Astronaut Charles Conrad Jr. plans to be outside three hours and 14 minutes during the initial stroll, while Alan L. Bean is expected to be outside two hours, 23 minutes.

Wednesday's excursion will begin with Conrad backing out of the hatch of the moonlander Intrepid at 6:02 a.m. EST. A second stroll begins at 12:32 a.m. Thursday, when Conrad and Bean visit the now dead Surveyor 3 spacecraft.

First color television should begin at 6:03 a.m. Wednesday after Conrad, standing on a ladder, opens a compartment in which the camera is mounted. Bean will turn the television on to show Conrad's descent to the moon's surface.

While Bean films Conrad with a 70 millimeter movie camera the Apollo 12 commander will spend six minutes getting used to the low gravity, jumping up and down and testing his balance.

Using a scoop with an extension handle, Conrad will pick up a sample of rock and soil, put it in a bag and send the bundle in a container up a clothesline-like conveyor belt to Bean.

Conrad then will snap still photos as Bean starts down the ladder at 6:32 a.m.

After Bean familiarizes himself with the one-sixth gravity,

Liberty Bell May Be Moved

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Liberty Bell, last moved from Independence Hall in 1777 because the British were coming, might be moved again because the tourists are coming.

Plans for the move were disclosed Monday by Arthur Kaufman, chairman of the Independence National Park Advisory Committee, and Chester Brooks, superintendent of the federal park.

Although their plans differ, their motives are the same: to shift it to a site where more visitors can see it during the 1976 bicentennial celebration.

It will be hung in the Armstrong Aero-Space Museum at Wapakoneta.

The portrait, executed by Joe Pentangelo of Cleveland, an Ohio Penitentiary inmate, is 24 by 30 inches. The work was brought to the attention of the historical society by the Rev. James Redding, founder and director of the Helping Hand Halfway Home, Inc., of Cleveland.

Gov. James Rhodes saw the painting in a Cleveland art exhibit and accepted it for the state.

aside temporarily while the Senate takes up a House-passed bill to provide for a lottery draft.

While Hruska opposed Mansfield's plan for a vote at 1 p.m. Thursday, the Republican senator did not rule out the possibility of a vote on Friday.

Haynsworth supporters, some of whom indicate time is working on their side, picked up two votes Monday to run the total to 39 in favor of the nomination, 40 opposing confirmation and 21 still publicly uncommitted on the three-month-old appointment.

Sens. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., and Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., both previously un-

Conrad will spring open an antenna which looks like an upside-down umbrella. Officials hope the antenna, to be activated for the second moon walk, will improve communications with earth.

Bean will mount the TV camera on a tripod 20 feet from the lander. Then he and Conrad push a staff into the ground and attach a nylon American flag to it.

Both astronauts then will take out the scientific instruments contained in two subpackages. Using a long-handled tool, Bean will open a cask containing plutonium 238, an atomic fuel element, and insert it into a nuclear electric generator that powers the instruments.

Bean, carrying the experiment instruments and generator, and Conrad will walk to a site about 1,000 feet west of the lander craft. There, they will

Haynsworth Backers Seek Delay In Final Balloting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate working for confirmation of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. to the Supreme Court are hoping to delay the showdown vote, possibly until next week.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said he would like to hold the vote Thursday. But Sen. Roman L. Hruska, floor manager of the nomination, suggested Monday the showdown be put off because many senators plan to be away Thursday.

The Nebraska Republican also told reporters the Haynsworth nomination might be set

Museum To Get Neil Armstrong Oil Portrait

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An oil portrait of Ohio's moon astronaut Neil Armstrong in his space gear has been turned over to the Ohio Historical Society.

It will be hung in the Armstrong Aero-Space Museum at Wapakoneta.

The portrait, executed by Joe Pentangelo of Cleveland, an Ohio Penitentiary inmate, is 24 by 30 inches. The work was brought to the attention of the historical society by the Rev. James Redding, founder and director of the Helping Hand Halfway Home, Inc., of Cleveland.

Gov. James Rhodes saw the painting in a Cleveland art exhibit and accepted it for the state.

Haynsworth supporters, some of whom indicate time is working on their side, picked up two votes Monday to run the total to 39 in favor of the nomination, 40 opposing confirmation and 21 still publicly uncommitted on the three-month-old appointment.

Sens. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., and Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., both previously uncommitted Monday they will vote for confirmation.

Spong told the Senate questions raised about Haynsworth's ethics because of his sitting in cases involving companies in which he had a financial interest had not been substantiated.

Prouty said in a statement "the blizzard of accusations against Judge Haynsworth melts quickly under close scrutiny."

Hruska and other supporters of the nomination said during Monday's debate that they did not think Haynsworth's confirmation by a close vote would have an adverse impact on public confidence in the court.

However, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader of the opposition, said Haynsworth's confirmation by a narrow margin would be bad for the court.

A new appeal to reject Haynsworth's nomination was made to all senators in a letter from Roy Wilkins, chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

He said his biggest fear now is that adverse comments in his personnel file may cause him to be blackballed from any future job in his field in either government or industry.

Fitzgerald answered Proxmire's question in a hearing Nov. 13, 1968, before the Joint House-Senate Economic Committee.

Fitzgerald's job was eliminated earlier this month in what Seaman said was an economy move.

The month before his testimony, Fitzgerald said he was warned by Defense Comptroller Robert C. Moot that if he appeared and gave too many facts there would be "blood on the floor."

Plan Setdown For 1:53 A.M. Wednesday

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — America's Apollo 12 explorers circled the moon in perfect orbit today, only hours away from a bold attempt at a bull's-eye landing on the craggy, pocked surface and man's second expedition to this mysterious world.

Their target: a tight 400-foot-wide circle on the eastern edge of the Ocean of Storms.

Their goal: the first detailed scientific exploration of the lunar surface.

Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean reported they were ready for the landing after their first close-up, breath-taking look at the moon's stark beauty, a sight they described as "fantastic."

"We're ready to go," declared Bean after an inspection of the landing craft Intrepid showed everything "shipshape."

The astronauts slept through most of earth's daylight hours today, resting for a grueling night in which Conrad and Bean are to fly Intrepid to the moon while Gordon continues to orbit in the command ship Yankee Clipper.

The landing is set for 1:53 a.m. EST Wednesday.

Hours later, at 6:02 a.m., Conrad and Bean are to start a 3½-hour excursion outside, becoming the third and fourth men to leave their footprints in the powdery lunar soil.

A second excursion is scheduled early Thursday. Both will be broadcast live to earthlings via color television.

If successful, Conrad and Bean will record another triumph for human courage and knowledge and they will open boundless frontier of space a bit farther, paving the way for future Apollo voyagers to explore more difficult terrain in mountains and craters.

Conrad and Bean slipped through a connecting tunnel into Intrepid's cabin early today to inspect and test many of its systems.

After an 80-minute check, Bean reported: "We've checked out all the things we're supposed to and they're all shipshape. We're ready to go."

Conrad and Bean hope to set Intrepid down precisely in a 400-foot-wide circle in the Ocean of Storms on the western side of the moon's visible face at 1:53 a.m. EST Wednesday. Their goal is the first detailed scientific

Fitzgerald And Seaman Clash Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee has provided the stage for a head-to-head confrontation between an Air Force cost expert some hail for saving billions of dollars and the official who fired him.

Today's meeting at the witness table between efficiency expert A. E. Fitzgerald and Air Force Secretary Roger Seaman comes one day after Fitzgerald testified no adequate system exists to control costs on any of dozens of major weapons systems now in production.

Fitzgerald testified Monday that a year of intimidation, veiled threats, a gradual loss of function and isolation from necessary information and the elimination of his job began for him when, in answer to a question from Sen. William Proxmire, he said the giant C5A aircraft would cost at least $2 billion more than estimated.

He said his biggest fear now is that adverse comments in his personnel file may cause him to be blackballed from any future job in his field in either government or industry.

Fitzgerald answered Proxmire's question in a hearing Nov. 13, 1968, before the Joint House-Senate Economic Committee.

U.S., South Viets Slay 272 Reds In Pitched Battle

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces today claimed 273 North Vietnamese killed in two battles in the Bu Prang-Duc Lap area of the central highlands. U.S. artillery and planes did most of the killing.

The heaviest fighting was two miles east of Bu Prang, where 243 enemy were reported killed. Informants said South Vietnamese casualties in the day-long battle Monday were only 11 wounded because each time the government troops met stiff resistance, they pulled back and called on American aircraft and artillery.

The government claim of 243 North Vietnamese killed was somewhat suspect. A search after the battle turned up only six weapons and aerial observers counted some of the enemy dead.

In the other battle, five miles south of Duc Lap, 30 North Vietnamese were killed while South Vietnamese casualties were seven killed and 11 wounded.

Government forces sweeping the battlefield at Bu Prang reported finding some bodies of North Vietnamese soldiers chained to trees and to each other to keep them from retreating under the onslaught of American firepower. There have been similar reports in the past.

Bu Prang is 110 miles northwest of Saigon and Duc Lap is 25 miles farther north. Heavy fighting in the area for more than two weeks is providing another test of the Nixon administration's program to "Vietnamize" the war, since the ground fighting in the area is being left to the South Vietnamese, and the only American forces being used are advisers, artillerymen and airmen.

Juvenile Court Hears Cases Filed Against Area Youths

Ten juveniles appeared before Judge Guy Cline in Juvenile Court recently.

Three Orient youths, two brothers and a sister were placed on three years' probation for delinquency from school. The eldest, a 15-year-old boy, was also sentenced to two weekends in detention.

Six hours of detention and three years' probation were given to a 17-year-old Circleville girl for being truant from school.

Two boys, both 17, who were recently arrested by the county Sheriff's department, appeared before the court for the October breaking and entering and theft of the Deercreek Auto Parts, Williamsport. Both boys were given three years' probation and ordered to complete 100 hours of community work.

Two 16-year-old Ashville youths and a 17-year-old Groveport boy were found guilty of malicious destruction of over 25 mailboxes. The three juveniles were sentenced to three years' probation and ordered to complete 100 hours of community work.

A similar sentence was imposed on two youths for the theft of a radio from the Cardinal Market, Ashville. A 15-year-old Groveport boy and 10-year-old Circleville boy were both found guilty of taking the radio, valued at $30.

In final action, the court considered the case of child neglect against an adult, Frank Sheppard of Lowery Lane. Found guilty of violating probation, a former sentence of one year in jail and $1,000 fine was imposed on him.

Astronauts . . .

pushing themselves while doing it.

Before the flight, said Garino, Conrad was able to cover six miles at a steady six minutes per mile.

During training, the astronauts frequently spent 10 to 12 hours sitting in mock ups of their spacecraft and operating the controls just as they do in space.

Some simulations lasted into the early morning hours, acclimating the crew to working long hours on short sleep.

"Usually they would come out of the simulations and loosen up by running," says Garino.

He said Conrad "has more stamina than the others," but all three are powerful men.

Bean is an accomplished gymnast and has especially strong hands and arms, while Gordon's grip is exceptionally strong, Garino said.

The long work days in space are necessary because equipment limits fuel, oxygen and power, while man is adaptable. Bus and airline facilities permit the companies and federal government to fix safety limits for drivers and pilots.

"We're just not at the point where we can do this in space flight yet," says a space agency official. "The crew fills in where our hardware leaves off."

FAILED TO SEE SIGN — Howard Comeans of Columbus is in Mt. Carmel Hospital because he didn't see the stop sign at the intersection. His car crossed the road and dropped into this ditch. Comeans said he was not familiar with the area and didn't know he had to make a turn here.

Minor Injury Reported In 1-Car Mishap

Pickaway County Sheriff's Department investigated an injury accident at 6:20 p.m. Monday at the intersection of the Harrisburg-Darbyville and Circleville - London - Northern Roads.

Harold Comeans, 63, of Columbus told Deputy Bob Hoover he was southbound on the Harrisburg-Darbyville Road and failed to see the stop sign.

He crossed the Circleville - London Road and went into a deep ditch, striking the embankment.

Comeans was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment of a severe scalp laceration and chest injuries and transferred to Mt. Carmel Hospital in Columbus.

Deaths

MRS. BETTY CASTLE
Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Betty Castle, 36, of Okeechobee, Fla.

She is survived by her husband, Phil; daughter, Teresa; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCormick, Greenfield; brother, Glenn and a sister, Gayle, both of the home; a sister, Mrs. William Whitaker, and an aunt, Mrs. Orin Stout, both of Circleville.

Services were held Nov. 13 in Okeechobee.

Local Men Cited Into Muny Court

Three Circleville residents were cited into Municipal Court Tuesday by city police.

Frederick Hart, 45, Lowery Lane, was charged for driving left of center by Patrolman Curtis Reed. He was fined $10 and costs.

Cited by Sgt. Rod List for intoxication was Robert Reynolds, 148 W. High St. He forfeited $24 bond.

John Young, 21, of 159 Logan St. forfeited $19 for making unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle.

Other forfeitures totaled $368.

Palm Appointed To Hospital Board
Pickaway County Commissioners Monday reappointed Russell Palm, Route 4, to the Berger Hospital Board of Directors.

Palm was appointed for a four year term.

Airplane Hits Power Line At Airport

A near tragedy was avoided Monday evening when a small plane crashed in a plowed field near the Thomas Airport.

Paul E. Walters, 28, of Route 2, Circleville, told Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies he had taken off from Pike County Airport and was flying to Circleville.

He became lost in the rain and sleet and it was dark when he finally found Thomas field.

Attempting to land in the dark, the wheel struck the power lines on Route 22 and the plane came down in a field.

Walters was not injured and the plane suffered slight damage.

HEALTH CENTER STARTS — Construction of Pickaway Manor, an extended care nursing convalescent facility, was begun Monday. Completion of the 60-bed project is expected in about 12 months. Richard Penn (seated) receives a check from Ted Toby, a representative of Citizens Mortgage Co., the firm that is financing the project. Present when the final papers were signed for the loan were, from the left, Ward Skinner, Roy Marshall, E. R. (Tom) Bennett, Bob Kenworthy, Charles Radcliff and Robert Huffer.

Work Starts On Nursing Care Facility

Construction has started on Pickaway Manor, a 60-bed extended care health facility on Clark Drive, this week.

The facility is being built by Pickaway Manor Inc., a subsidiary of the Circleville-Pickaway Corp. The Circleville-Pickaway Corp. was formed by local residents whose main purpose is to invest money in the county.

Officers of Pickaway Manor are Robert Kenworthy, president; Charles Radcliff, secretary; James Fausnaugh, treasurer. The same men hold the same offices in the Circleville-Pickaway Corp., except for treasurer. Ward Skinner is treasurer of the latter group.

Members of the building committee for the health facility are Ned Harden, chairman; Radcliff, Fausnaugh and Kenworthy. Tom Bennett is chairman of the furniture and fixtures committee and Roy Marshall chairman of the decorating committee.

SEVER WILLIAMS of Washington C. H. is the general contractor for construction. Walter Lautenbach is the architect. The corporation financed the project through the Citizen Mortgage Co. The loan is insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

The nursing facility will cost an estimated $700,000. It is expected to be completed in about a year.

U.S. Out $1 Billion Due To Black Market: Ribicoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff says black marketeers have made more than $1 billion by illegal manipulation of U.S. and South Vietnamese currencies.

The situation involves a criminal syndicate, is international in scope and has hurt seriously the American attempt to shore up the South Vietnamese money, the Connecticut Democrat said prior to his investigations subcommittee opening public hearings today into the illegal racket.

Ribicoff said the illegal money market involves federal employees, members of the U.S. armed forces, government-affiliated contractors, American businessmen, South Vietnamese citizens and nationals of other countries.

He said witnesses will give evidence on specific illegal money dealings through American and Hong Kong banks totaling about $360 million over the last five years.

The hearings are the second phase of an extensive on - the scene probe by staff investigators over the last year.

The first phase dealt mainly with a small group of senior noncommissioned officers accused of raking hundreds of thousands of dollars from NCO clubs in Germany, the United States and South Vietnam.

Large profits are possible in illegal money operations in Vietnam, subcommittee aides said, because of the substantial difference in legal and illegal exchange rates.

The official exchange rate is 118 South Vietnamese piasters to the dollar.

The black market rate is usually 170 piasters to the dollar and has reached 200, investigators reported.

Ribicoff said the currency manipulation racket has done serious damage to the South Vietnamese economy, has made more difficult the fight against inflation and has reduced the effect of the American AID program.

They drove to the railroad tracks between County Road 511 and the Red Bridge - East Ringgold Road where the alleged rape took place.

The break in the case came when the girl told Dountz the Ohio State Highway Patrol had stopped the car on Route 23 and gave Boyzel a warning ticket.

Dountz contacted the local post and obtained Boyzel's name and address.

Boyzel is in county jail with bond set at $5,000 and a preliminary hearing is set for Thursday morning.

The other couple in the car will be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Man Arrested As A 'Pusher' Of Narcotics

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Mid-dletown detectives and Warren county deputy sheriffs arrested a gas appliance company worker Monday night and seized 10,000 amphetamine pills (speed).

The man was identified as Louis Fredrick, 46, of near here.

Officers said they arrested the man at his home after he had arranged to sell 2,000 to 3,000 pills to a buyer who was not identified.

Fredrick is being held in the Warren county jail on a charge of possession of narcotics.

Historical Society Schedules Meeting
The Pickaway County Historical Society will hold its quarterly meeting 8 a.m. Thursday in the Clarke-May house.

The program will be a color film, "The Story of a Patriot." The film introduces the viewer to Williamsburg and to the historic events and the basic ideas of freedom forged here. It relates the story of the issues, and the final steps toward complete independence by Virginians two centuries ago.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Little Old Lady May Be A Real Swinger

DEAR ABBY: I am a plain ordinary GI doing my "thing" in Viet Nam. My problem is my mother. This sweet little old lady has been working as a door-to-door saleslady trying to earn money to meet me in R and R.

Now, Abby, don't get me wrong. I love my mother, but I really didn't have in mind spending my "R and R" walking my 50-year-old mother around Sydney. I mean there are things I'd like to do and places I would like to go where a sweet little old lady wouldn't fit in. Abby, I can tell from her letters that she has her heart set on meeting me.

How can I tell her not to? I don't want to break her hard-working heart. Sign this...

BEAST
DEAR BEAST: If you honestly think you'd break your mother's heart, then let her meet you. Little old ladies of 50 are a lot sharper than you think they are. She could surprise you, join forces with a middle-aged kangaroo and find herself a couple of jumps ahead of you.

DEAR ABBY: What should a woman do when someone crowds in ahead of her in a check-out line or at some counter where there are more customers than clerks to take their money? This happened to me again yesterday, and I was really upset because I was in a hurry. Afterwards, I was mad at myself for not having had the courage to stand up for my rights and put that rude woman in her place. If I had been determined to say something, what should I have said?

MAD AT ME IN ALBUQUERQUE

DEAR MAD: You could have said, "Excuse me, Madame, but I believe I was ahead of you." But one so rude as to crowd in ahead of another would probably have countered with, "O, no you weren't! I was ahead of YOU!" You'd have gained nothing but a second attack of indignation, so you are better off acting lady-like and remaining silent.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a word to "ATTRACTED" from one who has "BEEN THERE": Don't give yourself a moment

High Court Won't Hear Protesters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, on a 7-1 vote, let stand Monday the conviction of four University of Kentucky student protesters who blocked a university office in which the Defense Intelligence Agency was holding recruiting interviews.

Justice William O. Douglas, alone, favored hearing the four protesters and their attack on the state's breach-of-peace law.

The court majority, consisting of all the other justices, said in explaining their action only that the appeal had been dismissed "for want of jurisdiction."

This means the majority felt the issue was not one that the court could properly consider.

The four students, Dan Sheridan O'Leary III, William Murrell, Kristina Lewis and Robert A. Woock, were arrested by campus police in 1967 for refusing to leave the doorway of a university office in which the Defense Intelligence Agency was holding recruiting interviews.

They were fined $75 on conviction and Kentucky courts dismissed their claims that the law was unconstitutionally vague and ambiguous.

U.S. To Ship Food

MASERU, Lesotho (AP) — The United States will ship 17,000,000 pounds of food commodities to this impoverished African kingdom during the second half of 1969 and the first half of 1970, the American Embassy announced. An estimated 76,650 people will benefit from the "Food for Peace" shipment, to be distributed by the Catholic Relief Services agency.

Newspapers 'Regulated' In Greece

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek regime announced Monday new press regulations that include penalties ranging from three months in jail to confiscation of an offending publication.

The military-controlled government also ordered the end of tax privileges for the nation's newspapers, thus putting them on the same tax scale as other Greek businesses.

Both acts take effect Jan. 1.

The 101-article press law introduces what is described as the principle of individual responsibility of the publisher, editor in chief, editors and cartoonists for the accuracy of what is published. Another section of the law, dealing with journalists and their professional responsibilities, is to be published at a later date.

Among the type of articles deemed illegal are those that insult the king and members of the royal family, tend to incite revolutionary action and overthrow of the regime, expose military or state secrets, revive old political passions, distort official documents, shake public confidence in the economy and support outlawed parties or organizations.

Ioannis Agathangelou, alternate minister to Premier George Papadopoulos, said Saturday that the new law was intended to "protect the nation from elements that corrupt the soul and abuse press freedom and to eliminate bribery or illegal business dealings."

Greek publishers so far have declined comment on the new regulations, saying they want to study them further.

More Cranberries

More and more holiday items are appearing in the news to remind one and all that Thanksgiving is approaching and Christmas will not be far behind.

Take cranberries. The Agriculture Department places the 1969 crop at 80,000 tons, up 9 per cent from last year and 16 per cent above the 1963-67 average. There will be no reason for anyone to go easy on the cranberries, at Thanksgiving, Christmas or in between.

Prices weren't mentioned by the department, but only the naive would expect cranberries to be cheaper than last year.

Conflict Of Interest?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Lynching, one would have supposed, went out of fashion some time ago. But if the Senators who are about to vote on the confirmation of Judge Clement Haynsworth to the Supreme Court actually turn him down, they will stand guilty to having abetted the most brazen lynching of a reputation that this century has seen.

Personally, I can't really believe that all of the Senators now listed in the anti-Haynsworth count will go through with the murder of a man's good name. What is Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, for example, doing in the lynching posse (where she happens to stand as of the moment of writing)? Why does Senator Robert P. Griffin of Michigan keep insisting that the alleged parallel between the Haynsworth and Abe Fortas cases obliges him to vote against supporting Nixon's nominee? These are honorable Republicans; they should take an honorable second look at their reasoning processes.

Clark Mollenhoff, the White House Deputy Counselor in charge of combatting smears, has already shown in careful detail that Judge Haynsworth's stock dealings involved just about as much "conflict of interest" with his judicial rulings as would be attributable to a pro-Coca Cola opinion by a jurist who had once taken a free drink of Coca Cola at a company party in Atlanta. I don't want to go into this business again, for I have already written a column about it. But since writing that particular column something else has come up. The Judge has been accused of dirty work in connection with the gift of a house to Furman University.

In Heaven's name, what goes on here? Every year people give property away to foundations, educational institutions and charities and take it as a quite legitimate tax deduction. The government wants it that way. All that Judge Haynsworth did was to make a gift of a house valued at $115,000 to his Alma Mater. He had put $115,000 into the house in 1960.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ONE OF THOSE under-forty geniuses who built a billion-dollar conglomerate out of a dinky Texas hamburger stand in six years was reminded during a three-minute lull in his wheelings and dealings that his daughter at finishing school was celebrating her sixteenth birthday the next day. He hurriedly sent her a check for ten thousand dollars and went back to work.

A few days later he got the check back from his daughter with a note saying, "The thought—and the amount—were both gratifying, but the bank says you better use another signature." The check to his daughter had been signed—"Love, Dad."

What had begun as an office flirtation ripened into abiding love, and a boy and girl who worked for a big bank on Park Avenue rushed down during their lunch hour to get a marriage license. "Look," said the girl angrily, "they've jacked the price of a license up to four dollars!" "Think nothing of it," consoled the love-sick groom-to-be. "They're just trying to keep out the riffraff."

From the notebooks of Orville Red:

1. If a man thinks for one minute he can understand women, he has it timed about right.
2. A wayward girl is one with too many beaux and errors.
3. A golfer hit a ball off a fairway onto an adjacent football field. Naturally, he asked his caddy for a gridiron.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I telephoned a doctor one Wednesday. I was anxious to know how a patient was progressing after a serious hemorrhage in the intestinal tract. My chief purpose in calling the attending doctor was to tell him that I had at one time operated on this patient for a tumor of the esophagus. I felt that this information might be of importance.

Before I could even identify myself as a doctor his telephone answering service responded to my long distance call by saying, "This is Wednesday. It's the doctor's day off."

My immediate reaction, in annoyance, was to say, "I am sorry that a mutual patient of ours has chosen the wrong day to bleed. I hope that the doctor makes himself available for such emergencies."

I am certain that this method of answering the telephone was not authorized by the doctor, but it was most distressing to me.

Many readers have written to me about doctorless Wednesdays. Illnesses and emergencies cannot be custom-made to suit the office hours, the days off or the holidays of doctors. Most doctors know this and are careful to arrange for other doctors to take on the responsibility of the needs of their own patients. Anxious patients need this security.

The tensions of being a physician and the vast hours we spend in the practice of medicine makes "time off" a necessity if we are to continue to be effective. However, a good relationship between doctor and patient should not be disrupted by such poor handling of medical practice.

Last Sunday, I knocked on the door of a patient on whom I had operated a few days before. It was 12 noon and the hospital floor was quiet except for the bustling of the floor nurses.

I entered the room and was greeted by, "I am glad it's you. I was afraid it was the beginning of the Sunday invasion of visitors."

It is difficult for people to understand how tiring it is for a patient to be overwhelmed by an avalanche of visitors. Although filled with kindness and laden with gifts, they leave the patient in a state of absolute fatigue at the end of the day.

I recall my own reaction when I was a patient for a short time and how I dreaded ex-

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — One hundred and one years ago the Japanese emperor issued an advisory to his people to "discard misguided practices of the past." He encouraged them to "seek new knowledge from the rest of the world."

The Japanese economy is growing at an amazing rate, somewhere around 13 or 14 per cent in real dollars. And the way Japanese manufacturers are plowing money back into expanded facilities, that rate may continue for years.

Match this against a rate of 5 or 6 per cent which most nations would be happy to achieve but seldom do. Japan's rate is twice that of its competitors.

Rising from economic devastation following World War II, this island nation that is physically smaller than California, achieved by 1955 a production rate equal to that of its immediate pre-war years. But even faster growth was ahead, and Japan is now the third largest industrial power behind the United States and the Soviet Union.

It leads the world in shipbuilding, production of cotton yarn, motorcycles, cameras, sewing machines, watches and radios. It is the second largest producer of automobiles, turbine generators, artificial fibers and television sets. And it is third in steel, paper, cement and oil refinery products.

With such an abundant output, Japanese businessmen are scurrying about the world selling their products and, in many instances, scaring the daylight out of domestic companies.

There is a reason for the zeal with which Japanese businessmen approach foreign sales. Japan must export or perish. If its goods are not bought abroad, the nation could not afford to import its basic foods and raw materials.

This situation makes the Japanese story all the more amazing. Barren of raw materials, Japan depends on imports for her oil, iron, wheat, cotton, coal, timber and a long list of other products that Americans take for granted.

One of its most important imports has been technology. Starting from scratch in many areas of production, the Japanese swiftly built up their capabilities by using ideas and methods developed in other countries, adding improvements of their own.

One result is that now the Japanese production plant is more modern than that of the United States. More than 60 per cent of its machine tools are less than 10 years old, for example, compared with 39 per cent in the United States.

Whether or not Japan can continue to capitalize on the implementation of technology is a cause for concern in that nation. Japanese economists feel that their country now must invest in its own research and depend less on that of others.

If it fails to produce the scientists and engineers, and if its companies do not put more money into research and development, there is some danger that the tremendous economic expansion will lose energy.

At the moment, the evidence hasn't appeared. In fact, a new book by a Swedish author, called "The Japanese Challenge," states that Japan's per capita income will exceed that of the United States in 15 years. Haakan Hedberg, whose book is now being translated into English, will be challenged by critics and analysts. They can point out, for example, that per capita income of Japan's 100 million people will have to be tripled to equal that of the United States.

The Japanese nation has other problems also. The number of paved roads is insufficient for a nation so advanced. And highways, airports, ports and other public facilities are badly needed and will have to be built.

Despite these and other problems, the pace of the Japanese economy is so swift right now that many people are bound to accept the subtitle of Hedberg's book as an accurate forecast. It's called "Japan—The Economic Superpower of the 1980s."

WASHINGTON MEMO

By Congressman CHALMERS P. WYLIE
15th District of Ohio

Last week the House, by a record vote of 337 yeas to six nays, passed the Aviation Facilities Expansion and Improvement Act. The purpose of this legislation is to help solve the problem of providing adequate airport facilities for an everexpanding commercial air fleet.

Conservative estimates indicate that a doubling and redoubling of the use of air transportation will take place in the immediate future. The jumbo jets which will carry 300 to 800 passengers are here now. Supersonic commercial aircraft will soon be a reality. By 1980 it is estimated that domestic airlines will handle 420 million passengers, almost triple the 1969 figures.

The bill establishes a trust fund with a direct relationship between the use of the system and the money generated to meet the needs required by the users. The primary financial burden for contemplated expansion and improvements will be assured by the direct users.

A series of increases in the taxes on aviation fuels, passenger tickets, international flights, air freight way bills and aircraft registration will fund the program.

Since the health of commercial aviation is vital to our economy and national defense, I voted for this bill.

By a record vote of 171 yeas to 198 nays, the House defeated the Potato Research and Promotion Act. In brief, the bill provided that the potato industry could request the Secretary of Agriculture to establish a research and promotion program to aid potato growers in expanding their markets. A National Potato Promotion Board would be established to run the program. A referendum would be conducted among the growers to see if they desired the benefits.

The bill went down to defeat because it was special interest legislation that would benefit only a minority of potato growers because the small producers which compose the bulk of potato growers were excluded.

The bill was also opposed by the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation and members of the House Committee on Agriculture.

This bill would have established a costly precedent and soon other agricultural commodity growers would have demanded equal benefits. I welcome the bill's defeat.

On Veterans' Day a crowd estimated between 12,000 and 25,000 people gathered for a rousing patriotic rally at the Sylvan Theatre adjacent to the Washington Monument. They came from all walks of life and all age groups. The main speakers were Senator John Tower (R-Texas) and Congressman Donald Lukens (R-Ohio), plus other members of Congress and assorted dignitaries.

It seemed evident from the speeches and crowd reaction that President Nixon's Vietnam speech has, indeed, rekindled the latent patriotism of the "vast silent majority." The voice of the quiet constructive American has been raised in support of the President. He has not abandoned his right to express his views nor will he be drowned out by the street tactics of a vocal minority.

Many of my constituents have written to the President sending me copies of their letters. I would encourage all of my constituents to make their views known to the President concerning his plan for peace in Vietnam.

On November 13, the full Senate began consideration of the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth as an Associate Justice to the United States Supreme Court. A storm of controversy has surrounded this jurist from South Carolina ever since his nomination was announced by President Nixon on August 18.

The Senate Judiciary Committee began hearings on the Haynsworth nomination on September 16. After eight days of extensive hearings, where proponents and opponents presented their arguments, the Committee cleared the nomination for Senate consideration by a vote of ten to seven.

The final vote on the confirmation of Judge Haynsworth is scheduled to come the week of November 17. The outcome of this vote is very much in doubt, and it is anticipated that the vote will be extremely close. Possibly one vote will decide the fate of Judge Haynsworth.

The Senate last week voted $1 billion to clean up America's water supply—the biggest anti-pollution expenditure ever approved. The Bureau of the Budget had originally requested $214 million for matching grants with the states for water treatment plants. The House voted $600 million for the anti-pollution drive. The Senate increased the House figure by $400 million.

This measure will now go to conference to work out differences. I supported the House bill.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 18, the 322nd day of 1969. There are 43 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1903, a treaty was ratified giving the United States control of the Panama Canal Zone.

On this date: In 1832, more than one million Britons lined the streets of London to view the funeral procession of the Duke of Wellington. In 1805, in a national plebiscite, the people of Norway elected Prince Carl of Denmark to be Norway's King Haakon VII.

In 1954, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France was in Washington seeking financial aid to halt the Communist threat in Vietnam. In 1918, the last German troops of World War I crossed the French frontier.

Five years ago—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover held a news conference to denounce the Warren Commission's criticism of the FBI for not warning the Secret Service that Lee Harvey Oswald was a potential threat to President Kennedy. Hoover called the criticism "unfair and unjust."

One year ago — The Soviet Union reported recovery of a moon-girdling spaceship after it made a double dip into the earth's atmosphere before landing.

Muskie Blasts Nixon Position

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Edmund Muskie says President Nixon's "silent majority" is a "mythical" creation, and that the average American is troubled by the President's Vietnam war policies.

"The passions and the doubts the war has raised are too strong and basic to be dispelled by presidential command," the Maine Democrat said in a speech Sunday night at a 100-a-plate Democratic party fund raising dinner.

"I wish the President were prepared to listen to the voices of the people," Muskie told an audience of about 750, "not just the strident voices but to the many quiet voices whose doubts, uncertainty, loyalty and moderation I think he has mistaken for silence."

Bill Pepper Speaker For DAC Meeting

Bill Pepper, radio and television personality, was guest speaker at the Wednesday luncheon meeting of Old Trails Chapter, Daughters of American Colonists at the Southern Hotel, Columbus.

Mr. Pepper, who started his broadcasting career in 1936 with Station WPAV, Portsmouth, is now affiliated with the news broadcasting team of WBNS-TV. He used as his subject, "Broadcasting Boobies." These have been collected over the years by the speaker.

One of the situations causing "boobies" is created by the commercial that follows a specific item. For example, the announcement of the candidacy of three men for city council followed by "Hire the Handicapped, It's Good Business."

Another hazzard is the audio bulletin that is hastily prepared and not previously read by the announcer. An example is "The parade will be held in the afternoon. In case of rain, it will be held instead in the morning." Also, there has been a head-on collision on the south freeway, killing five persons, two seriously.

Transposition of letters or syllables may come out "Yoral Rot" when "Royal Yacht" was intended or "this is WCPX, Indiana's first Broadcasting Station."

Mrs. Harry A. Emrick, regent, presided during the business session. Devotions were given by Mrs. Robert K. Fox, chaplain, and the national defense talk by Mrs. Leroy Hewitt Cromley of Asheville, Mrs. Edith Dines, Columbus, served as hostess chairman.

Area members are Mrs. Leroy H. Cromley, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. William E. Mack, Mrs. Charles H. May, Mrs. William A. Thomas, Mrs. Martin Cromley, Mrs. T. Leroy Cromley and Mrs. Emerson W. Downing.

Terraria Demonstration Garden Club Program

Pickaway County Garden Club met recently in the 4-H and Grange building at the fairgrounds. Three guests, Howard Haines, Mrs. Loretta Berrigan and Bryon Dunkle were present.

Preceding the program and business meeting a dessert course was served by the hostesses, Mrs. H. G. Campbell, chairman; Mrs. Frank Bennett, Mrs. Louise Crawford, Mrs. Charles Pugsley, Mrs. W. E. Defenbaugh and Mrs. Clarence McAbee.

Mrs. Howard Haines, a 35 year member of the Franklin Garden Club, presented a program titled "Terraria And Contained Area." She displayed several of her own collection and assisted members in making terrariums. She stressed that only compatible plants be used. Containers used ranged from antique canning jars to an aquarium.

A berry branch exhibition by members was judged by Mrs. Richard Jones. First place was awarded to Mrs. Willson Leist; second, Mrs. Darrell Hatfield, and third, Mrs. George Swepston.

Mrs. Leist, president, conducted the business meeting. New members introduced and welcomed by the president are Mrs. John Stout and Mrs. Denny Williams.

A letter was read from the Garden Club of Ohio thanking the club for staging materials to be used for the Nov. 22-23 "Holiday Happenings" flower show at the Columbus Art Gallery. Also read was a letter from the Pickaway County Library thanking the club for selecting and purchasing books on gardening, arranging and conserving both plant and animal life.

Mrs. Irene Jackson has consented to give instruction on free form in artistic design. Those interested in the class may call Mrs. Howard Davies for information.

A workshop will be conducted 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Willson Leist, 360 Watt St., Hardwick wreaths and pinecone dolls will be made. Materials needed are four 4 1/2 inch long cones, one large cone, straight pins, 2 1/2 to 3 inch styrofoam balls and a small amount of velvet ribbon. Materials of members choosing will be used for the wreaths.

A Christmas Tea will be held 1:30 p.m. Dec. 10 in the home of Mrs. James Irwin, 138 Long St., Asheville. Christmas arrangements under 12 inches will be judged by Mrs. Ned Harden and exchanged by members as gifts. Mrs. Eugene Barthelmas will be the program chairman and Mrs. Irwin, chairman of the hostess committee.

Guests were Mrs. Gerald Bowers, Mrs. Jack McGuire, Mrs. P. J. Ranek, Mrs. Terry Roof, Mrs. Bill Davie, Mrs. Ralph Ankrom, Mrs. Dana Borrer, Mrs. Vernon George, Mrs. Lloyd Garrett, Mrs. Larry Ghearing, Mrs. Shelby Dye and Mrs. Fred Davis.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mets, assisted by Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. George, Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Sealock.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Nielsen ratings, that yardstick of television popularity and, of longevity, may have shortcomings, but often reveals the public's reaction to network programming.

For instance, when Bob Hope turns up in one of his NBC specials, the kind that starts with a topical monologue by the star and slides into an assortment of sketches, it invariably lands on top of the next ratings chart or close to it.

Yet the durable Hope and company turned up Nov. 6 in an awkward hybridized version of the stage musical "Roberta" — and its 90 minutes of song and comedy missed even the top third of the Nielsen list.

The ratings, based on an audience sample which reveals only when the family set is turned on can call the popularity shots but it is anybody's guess why the audience tuned in or turned off.

Glenn Speaks On Vietnam At Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — "Any person who set a hard and fast time for the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam is not being realistic," John H. Glenn Jr. said here Monday night.

Addressing about 450 persons at a dinner honoring I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers of America, Glenn said Vietnam is the most pressing problem facing the United States and that it should be solved before turning to other problems.

Glenn, America's first orbiting space hero, is establishing residence in Columbus and is expected to seek the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate next year.

In response to a newsman's question Monday night, he said he had no announcement at this time regarding his political plans, "but if things keep going the way they are perhaps one of these days I will have an announcement."

He said he agreed with President Nixon that the South Vietnamese should bear a greater responsibility in the war, but that the people there needed a greater will to win. More political representation, less corruption and land reforms giving the people a stake in their country would give them greater determination, he added.

Cycle Upsets, Driver Hurt

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department investigated an injury accident at 2:40 p.m. Sunday near the intersection of Route 56 and Route 104.

Eugene D. King, 27, of Columbus, told Deputy Don Thompson he was northbound when his motorcycle left the road and upset on the berm.

King suffered a broken ankle and was transferred from Berger Hospital to Mt. Carmel Hospital in Columbus.

Arthur Henley Loses Court Bid

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arthur Lee Henley lost his appeal for a new trial in the Ohio First District Court of Appeals Monday. He was sentenced to death last June 18, convicted of the 1964 slaying of Peter Mazes Jr., assistant manager of a King-Kwik market.

Evidence at the trial was that Henley had been refused high-power beer because of his age and later returned and shot Mazes.

The conviction was upheld by the Ohio Supreme court.

Blackstone Elected To High Office

DR. GEORGE BLACKSTONE

Dr. George H. Blackstone, academic dean of Circleville Bible College, was chosen president-elect of the Wesleyan Theological Society during its annual meeting Nov. 7 and 8 at Marion College, Marion, Ind.

The Society was established for the encouragement and exchange of ideas among Wesleyan Arminian theologians and pastors. One of its projects is the publication of a scholarly journal. The Society works in accord with the national Holiness Assn. and numerous holiness denominations. Full time, associate and student membership are offered.

As president-elect, Reverend Blackstone will carry the responsibility of arranging the program for the sixth annual meeting of the Society in November, 1970. It will consist of the reading and discussion of theological papers during the one and one-half day session.

Dr. Blackstone has been a member of the Circleville Bible College staff for nine years. Before coming here he held a position at Vennard College. He is also Professor of Bible, Homiletics and Archeology. He is planning a tour of the Holy Land in the near future.

Boys Caught In Mailbox Destruction

Five juvenile boys have been arrested by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department in connection with malicious destruction of rural mailboxes in the Ashville area.

One of the boys, while being questioned about a felony, admitted the destruction of the mailboxes and implicated four other boys.

The juveniles told Deputy Bill Dountz they threw pumpkins and gourds from a car and hit the boxes.

Most of the boxes were on the Ashville - Fairfield, Circleville - Lockbourne and Harrisburg - Fairfield Roads.

Three of the boys have been tried in juvenile court and received three years probation. The other two boys will be tried this week.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Relatively mild weather for November continued over the Buckeye State today.

Shortly before sunrise temperatures were near 50 degrees except in the upper 40s over the northeast corner of the state.

Readings Monday reached into the 50s except at Toledo where the high only was 48. In the Ironton area the high was 64 for the warmest weather so far this month.

Rain Monday night was mostly in the western and northern portions amounting to near .1 or .2 inch.

A cold front located in Mississippi Valley this morning is expected to move eastward into Ohio Wednesday and will be accompanied by rain.

Thursday the outlook calls for cloudy and cooler weather.

In the meantime, low readings for tonight are forecast between 40 and 50 except in the upper 30s through northwestern Ohio.

—FORECASTS—

OHIO — Cloudy with intervals of rain tonight. Little change in temperatures. Lows 40-50 except in the upper 30s northwest. Wednesday cloudy with a chance of rain possibly mixed with wet snow northwest. Highs from the mid 40s to mid 50s.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Cloudy with intervals of rain tonight. Lows 35-40. Wednesday cloudy and cooler with a chance of rain or snow mixed. Highs mostly in the 40s.

NORTHEAST AND EAST CENTRAL OHIO — Cloudy with intervals of rain tonight. Little change in temperatures. Lows 45-50. Wednesday cloudy with rain likely. Highs 50-55.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST AND CENTRAL OHIO — Cloudy with intervals of rain tonight. Not much change in temperatures. Lows from the low 40s to the low 50s. Wednesday cloudy with a chance of rain. Highs in the 50s.

GE Develops Powerful Engine

CINCINNATI (AP) — The General Electric Co. has developed the world's most powerful aircraft engine to power the U.S. supersonic transport, (SST) the Boeing 2707, the firm revealed Monday.

The engine, called the GE4 prototype turbojet, established a thrust record of 69,900 pounds Nov. 13. The engine, developed at the strike-bound GE Evendale plant here, has exceeded its thrust guarantees and has met its full consumption requirements, the company said.

In the more than 1,000 hours of GE4 development testing to date, the performance and operation capabilities of the engine have been verified, GE said.

Apollo 12 commander Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., feels about her son's flight to the moon.

"It's very tricky, and a dangerous thing, but so were the two other rides he made in space," said Mrs. J. Weir Sargent, sitting quietly on the sun-drenched patio of her two-story stone home in this lush Philadelphia suburb.

"Of course, every mother is concerned about something a child is going to do, especially when there is danger and risk."

"But you have to have faith in your child, and I do, and that's why I'm really not very worried."

The 68-year-old Mrs. Sargent, though proud of her son, is reluctant to inject herself into his great moment of personal glory.

Pressed to talk about his childhood, she insists she doesn't remember much at all — but then the words flood out.

"When he started to walk he was never quiet, always looking into places, always inquisitive," Mrs. Sargent recalled, a smile wrinkling her thin face as she patted the small waves in her short champagne-blonde hair.

What turned him on to flying? "When he was past 3, we bought him one of those pedal machines shaped like an airplane, and he was crazy about it," she said. "Maybe that's where he first got the bug to be a flier."

School? "He seemed to get along all right. I don't remember the teacher ever talking to me. I don't remember anything he had difficulty with. I think he was happier doing mathematics than writing a composition."

"But he did his homework — and his two sisters used to help him sometimes. I never did — because after supper he wasn't allowed to work on his model airplanes until he finished his homework."

Mrs. Sargent, whose second husband is a retired stockbroker, recalled that when Pete was about 6 "he would take a big wooden box up to his room and then he'd attach something to represent wings, and he'd make believe he was in an airplane."

Conrad learned to fly when he was 14, taught by the owner of a small airport in nearby Wayne.

"He stayed home from summer camp to do it, and cut 80 acres of grass on the airfield to get the lessons," Mrs. Sargent said.

"Airplanes I guess were what mattered most to him. I didn't like it too much that he started to fly so early, but there wasn't anything I could do about it. You couldn't turn Pete away from something he really set his mind to."

Pete used to take things apart a half dozen times and put them back together," Mrs. Sargent said. "When he was about 14 a friend of his got an old car and my mother-in-law gave Pete a motorcycle and those two kids spent their happiest days of their life taking those things apart and they lived it up putting them together."

"On weekends, when he came home from Darrow School in New York, he'd go right to the hardware store and buy all the nuts, and bolts, and screws which he wanted to work with. He could fix anything for anybody."

Conrad went to Princeton

"mainly because it had the only good course in aeronautical engineering in the East," his mother said.

"I thought, when he graduated in 1953, he'd go into some business to build airplanes, but was determined to become a Navy flier."

He did and now he is about to become the third man to set foot on the moon.

Moon Telecast Set At 6 A.M. Wednesday

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Once more a white boot will crunch into the soil of the no longer-untrodden moon and television will be there, live and in color.

All three television networks plan to broadcast until after the lunar landing touches down safely at 1:53 a.m. NBC says it will stay on all night.

ABC will open its moonwalk coverage at 5 a.m. when the astronauts are making final preparations for their climb down the spacecraft ladder. CBS will begin its telecast at 5:30 a.m.

The first moonwalk of the Apollo 12 mission will last until about 9:30 a.m. The second starts at 2:35 a.m. EST Thursday and also should last 3 1/2 hours.

In July, when Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. made their historic Apollo 11 walk, the showing was in black and white and the system produced images that had the jerky motions of early day movies.

The Intrepid, as the Apollo 12 lunar lander is called, carries a color camera in a storage compartment near its base. Conrad will pull a handle as he descends to the moon's surface so the camera catches his climb down the ladder.

As the spaceship neared the moon Monday, the astronaut abandoned an attempt to televise the approach because the sun angle blinded their dirt-streaked windows. But the second scheduled telecast, after the ship went into lunar orbit, was extremely successful.

"This white or gray-white moon, it contrasts very starkly with the black sky, just like everyone's reported," said Bean. "The black is about as black as you've ever seen in your life. It doesn't have any hues or anything to it. It's just solid, straight, dull black and then the moon is just sort of very light concrete color."

Ohio May Lose U.S. Funds Over Nursing Law

By DIANA STOVER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Unless the Ohio Legislature acts next year to require the licensing of nursing home administrators, Ohio stands to lose $52 million a year in federal funds.

One nursing home association is strongly opposed to licensing, but the other two will be fighting for it. In addition, opposition of Democrats will have to be overcome.

Earlier this year a licensing bill lost by two votes in the Ohio Senate. The vote split along party lines, with Democrats opposing it.

Ohio stands to lose Medicaid funds for nursing homes as well as all federal medical assistance money. This includes funds that go to the aged, dependent children, the blind and disabled and general relief programs.

Robert Canary, assistant state welfare director, said a federal law requires that all states must have a nursing home administrator licensing program in effect by July 1, 1970 to qualify for medical assistance funds.

To date 19 states have adopted licensing laws.

Canary said the "assumption" is that if Ohio fails to comply, the federal government would have to cut off all medical assistance funds. He added that "It is possible that funds could be cut off only in connection with Medicaid funds that go to nursing homes."

In fiscal 1968-69 Ohio nursing homes received more than $17 million in Medicaid funds, according to welfare department figures. This is expected to rise to over $23 million this fiscal year. During the last fiscal year Ohio received an additional $35 million in other federal medical assistance funds.

Induction Appeals Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q. A farmer is ordered to report for induction. He informs the local board he will suffer a large financial loss as he has 200 acres of corn and 150 acres of soybeans to harvest and no labor available. What can be done to give him the time to harvest his crops?

A. The local board may, after the order to report for induction has been issued, postpone the time when a registrant shall report for a period not to exceed 60 days from the date of such postponement in case of "extreme emergency" and other conditions. Also the National or State Director of Selective Service may for any good cause, at any time after issuance of the order to report for induction, postpone the induction of a registrant until such time as he may deem advisable.

Q. At the present time I have an appeal pending. Can I be ordered to report for induction during this time?

A. No. The local board shall not issue an order for a registrant to report for induction either during the period afforded the registrant to take an appeal to the appeal board or during the period such an appeal is pending.

U.N. Arms Talks Opened On Unusually Quiet Note

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Plainly concerned about the success of their arms limitation talks in Helsinki, the United States and the Soviet Union launched the annual disarmament debate at the United Nations Monday on an unusually conciliatory note.

Omission of the usual invective made delegates hopeful that this year's U.N. disarmament talks will be more fruitful than such discussions in the past.

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost and Ambassador A.A. Roshchin of the Soviet Union both expressed hope that the Helsinki talks would bring an end to the nuclear arms race. Both also called for quick approval of the U.S.-Soviet draft treaty to keep the seabed free of nuclear weapons.

Despite reservations by some small nations, it seemed certain that the assembly would approve the U.S.-Soviet draft.

The only differences expressed by Yost and Roshchin concerned the curbing of chemical and biological weapons. Two drafts on the issue, submitted by Britain and the Soviet Union, are before the assembly.

The Russian declared that the subject had become urgent because of "experiments carried out in some countries where powerful bacteriological and chemical substances have been created which imperil" mankind.

Yost recommended the British formula as the "most detailed and carefully thought out." He said that president Nixon favors consideration of arms control initiatives in the chemical-biological field and that the United States supports the 1926 Geneva convention outlawing the use — but not the stockpiling — of such weapons.

Yost said a successful outcome to the Helsinki talks could have a favorable effect on new initiatives for a complete ban on nuclear weapons tests.

Arctic Cold Rolls Over Western U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh blast of arctic cold dropped temperatures near zero across the northern Rockies and Plains today and dumped a belt of snow over the midcontinent from New Mexico to Minnesota.

Temperatures fell from 10 to 15 degrees an hour as the first elements of a new cold snap rolled over the Plains. Kansas City basked in a high of 75 Monday afternoon while in northwestern Kansas 3 inches of snow piled up at Bird City and the mercury slid into the 20s.

Travelers warnings were in effect for a general snowfall of 2 to 4 inches from northeastern New Mexico into southern Minnesota. Freezing drizzle glazed portions of north-central Kansas and adjacent areas of Nebraska.

Cold wave warnings were issued for the western Dakotas and for much of northern Arizona. The temperature fell to 2 above zero at Casper, Wyo., shortly after midnight and to 3 above at Williston, N.D.

Unseasonably mild weather fanned through sections of the Plains and Midwest ahead of the cold. Overnight temperatures in the 40s and 50s were common.

Light rain and drizzle dampened an area from east Texas through the Great Lakes region. Clear skies prevailed west of the Rockies and from the Deep South to New England. Sprinkles in parts of the Pacific Northwest were an exception to fair weather in the Far West.

Robert Taft Jr. To Announce Plans Friday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, is expected to announce Friday whether he will seek the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate—and a primary confrontation with Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The Akron Beacon Journal has reported Taft will run for the Senate seat being vacated by Stephen M. Young. It quoted "sources close to Taft" as saying he had made up his mind.

Taft himself says he might seek the Senate job. He also might run for re-election as a congressman from Cincinnati, run for governor or retire. He'll make his decision known at a news conference in Cincinnati.

His close associates have said Taft believes this may be his last real chance for the Senate—where his father became known as "Mr. Republican." Taft is 53 and it will be four more years before he has another chance at the upper house.

Claim Delaware School Board Discriminates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The principal of Delaware Hayes High School, his assistant, the school superintendent and the Board of Education are accused of denying the constitutional rights of Hayes students.

The American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio filed suit in U.S. District Court here Monday on behalf of six Hayes pupils disciplined for wearing black armbands to school. Five were sent to the principal's office and a sixth was suspended indefinitely.

The suit seeks temporary and permanent court injunctions prohibiting the school officials from interfering with what the ACLU says are the constitutional rights of the pupils. It also asks that the defendants be required to pay all costs in the case.

Braves To Run

Logan Elm Cagers Have New Look This Season

There will be a new look on the Logan Elm High School Basketball team this year — new uniforms, new offense and new defense.

For the first time in many years, Logan Elm will not have a "big man." The tallest cager on the squad is Mark Kneec, a 6-2 junior with no varsity experience. He is the only Brave over the 6-foot mark.

"We'll have to do a lot of basic things well if we are going to win this year," Coach Chuck Pritchard says.

Pritchard is in his third year as head coach of the Braves. The first two years he was blest with a 6-foot 8-inch center — Royce Woolever who is now playing freshman basketball at Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky.

WITH Woolever, the Braves played a deliberate kind of basketball for the most part.

This year fans should see more of a running game. In addition to the loss of Woolever, Logan Elm also lost Dennis Karshner, a 6-4 forward, by graduation, and D. J. Humphrey, a sharpshooting guard, who transferred to a private school.

Karshner is attending Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock, Tex., on a full cager scholarship. Humphrey is attending Western Reserve prep school.

The nucleus of this year's team will be a pair of veteran southpaws — Dan Ankrom and Dan Fausnaugh.

Fausnaugh was the leading scorer last year, averaging about 16 points a game. He holds the Logan Elm single game scoring record of 38 points.

A guard, Fausnaugh is only 5 feet 8 inches tall. Ankrom is a 6-foot forward who started every game last year. Tough under the boards, he could well be the top rebounder on the squad this year.

FAUSNAUGH, Ankrom and Kneec are expected to be starters. But except for those three, Pritchard may well be in doubt who to start in games this year.

"We have about eight boys who should be playing a lot," Pritchard says.

K. C. Jones, (5-11), Jeff Jones, (5-10), Dale Hartley, (6-0), Rodney Riddle, (6-0), Greg Fouch, (5-7) and Roger Evans, (6-0), all seniors provide ample depth to the squad. This is Evans' first venture into the roundball sport. In previous years he has concentrated on football.

Tim Speakman, 5-10, and Chuck Sims, 5-10, are the two other juniors in addition to Kneec on the varsity squad.

Pritchard has elevated one sophomore to varsity status — Jeff Young, a 5-11 forward who was a mainstay of last year's freshman squad.

Young will, however, also see action on the reserve squad. "He will have to play a lot to improve," Pritchard explained.

IN pre-season practices the squad has been hampered by injuries and sickness. "We haven't had 12 boys out any night this year, but the boys have worked real hard when they were able to make the practices," the coach said.

The Braves open the season Saturday night, hosting Teays Valley.

Last year, Logan Elm shared the Scioto Valley Conference title with Westfall.

This year, Pritchard believes the conference chase will be a tossup.

In naming the teams he feels will be improved this year, the

THIS IS THE WAY — Logan Elm Coach Chuck Pritchard diagrams a play for his two veterans, Dan Fausnaugh (center) and Dan Ankrom. Pritchard and his clip board are a familiar sight to Logan Elm cager fans. He uses the board to explain plays during basketball games.

Football Wash

Hayes Would Like To Play The Best

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash:

Maybe this talk about Ohio State's belonging in the Super Bowl isn't so far-fetched.

"Have you ever thought about how your team might do against some of the weaker pro teams?" Coach Woody Hayes of the all-conquering and top-ranked Buckeyes was asked over a telephone hookup Monday at the weekly gathering of the New York Football Writers Association.

"I haven't given it any thought," Hayes replied, "but if I did, I'd think positively. I wouldn't think about playing the weaker pro teams but rather the best ones."

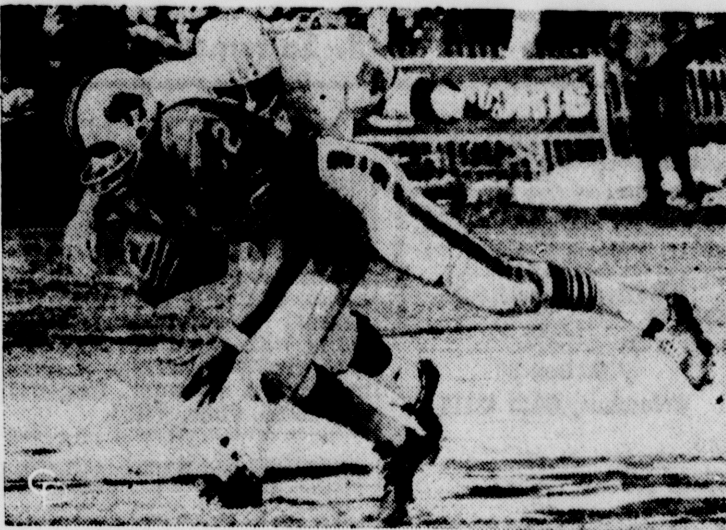

Hayes has plenty to think positively about. His 1968 team was 10-0, including a Rose Bowl triumph over Southern California and O.J. Simpson. The Buckeyes are 8-0 this season following Saturday's 42-14 rout of 10th-ranked Purdue and 15 of the 22 starters will be back in 1970.

"I don't think there's any doubt that this is a better team than last year's," Hayes said, "for this reason—it's practically the same personnel, with a year's experience."

Now you know why the other Big Ten teams aren't saying, "Wait til next year."

Speaking of Ohio State, Fred Taylor of Texas Christian was asked to compare the 62-0 drubbing at the hands of the Buckeyes on Sept. 27 with the 69-7 beating second ranked Texas gave his team Saturday.

"Texas played everybody they had," he said, "but we were so bad they couldn't help it. You can't tell your reserves to lay down and not score. Ohio State used a lot of players, too, but they probably could have held the score down a little bit."

O.J. ON THE WAY—Football's rookie biggie, O. J. Simpson, of the Buffalo Bills, has himself a pretty good day against the Miami Dolphins in Buffalo, scoring two touchdowns and carrying the ball 21 times for 72 yards on the ground. Simpson is being tackled here by Frank Emmanuel of Miami.

Woody Hayes Says Bucks Must Be 'Up' For Michigan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One of Woody Hayes' favorite theories is that a football team either gets better or worse in the Big Ten title stretch drive. Never has it been truer than 1969 as Hayes' top-ranked Buckeyes and Michigan prepare for their clash Saturday in Ann Arbor before 101,000 and a regional television (ABC) audience.

"It's obvious about Michigan this year," Ohio State scout Esco Sarkkinen said Monday.

Michigan lost two of its first five games and outscored the opposition 147-10. In the last four contests, all Wolverine victories, they have piled up a 178-22 point advantage.

In its first four wins, Ohio State had a 191-42 scoring bulge. The Buckeyes have swelled that to 210-27 in their last four triumphs, pushing their all-game winning streak to 22 games and Big Ten wins in a row to 17.

"Our defense was magnificent against Purdue," Hayes said, "but it will have to do it all over again this week."

"This is an entirely different team than Purdue," he went on, "basically, it's a running team. But they do pass with a high degree of consistency when they do throw."

A Barborton, Ohio, sophomore

LE Football Squad Feted

The Logan Elm High School football team was honored at the annual Booster Club sponsored football banquet Monday at the school.

Dan Ankrom, senior lineman for the Braves, walked off with the bulk of the special awards handed out at the banquet.

He was the team's most valuable player, won the most valuable lineman award sponsored by the Hall Adkins American Legion Post, was an All-Scioto Valley Conference end and was the team captain, elected by his fellow players.

Wertie Teets, a sophomore halfback, was the team's most valuable player. Byron Sykes was All-SVC defensive end and Mark Kempton an honorable mention All-Conference center.

Three year lettermen included Ankrom, Roger Evans, Kempton, Sykes and Ralph Roby.

Doyle Wiggins, assistant football coach, was master of ceremonies at the banquet. The program included musical selections by the Logan Elm Boys Ensemble, "Football '69 Anecdotes", by Evans and Wiggins and presentation of awards by Coach Marcus Albright.

Roger Hobbie presented the invocation and the benediction. Cheerleaders Wanda Dunkle, Loleita Faulk, Marla Hobbie, Patty Law, Twana Moats and Teresa Wright were introduced by Mrs. Amber Bigam, their adviser.

Special recognition was given by the team to Dr. William Myers, the team physician. He was presented with a desk set by members of the grid squad.

Ohio State, Texas Hold 1-2 In Poll

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Brutish Ohio State and Texas' bull-strong Longhorns remained one-two today in the Associated Press' college football poll, but most of the rest of the nation's Top Twenty scattered like berserk dice in the season's biggest shake-up.

Ohio State, a convincing 42-14 winner over stylish Purdue in their Big Ten showdown Saturday, corraled 31 first-place votes and 736 points over-all from a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Texas, which stamped Texas Christian, 69-7, collected seven first-place ballots and 688 points.

Tennessee tumbled from third to ninth after dropping a 38-0 stunner to Mississippi, and a pack of teams moved up a notch in the jumbled Top Ten after weekend successes.

Arkansas went from fourth to third, collecting 556 points after slugging Southern Methodist 28-15; Penn State jumped from fifth to fourth with 54 points after crushing Maryland 8-0, and Southern Cal stepped up a notch to fifth with 416 points after tripping Washington 16-7.

UCLA, a 13-10 winner over Oregon, went from seventh to sixth; Missouri climbed from eighth to seventh after beating Iowa State 40-13; Notre Dame went from ninth to eighth after slamming Georgia Tech 38-20, and LSU stepped into the Top Ten at 10th after its 61-6 pasting of Mississippi State.

Purdue, knocked out of the Rose Bowl picture by Ohio State, also was drummed out of

Notre Dame Joins Bowl Parade

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Notre Dame is noted for its football traditions—the Four Horsemen, the fabled Knute Rockne, "win one for the Gipper"—but Irish Coach Ara Parseghian is turning himself inside out with joy over the school's latest bit of tradition shattering.

"I've waited 20 years to go to a bowl game so this is quite a day for me," he chirped after the college snapped a 44-year ban on post-season games and agreed Monday to play in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Jan. 1.

"I think a precedent now has been set and if we have good ranking and receive bids we can go to a bowl game every year," he added.

Notre Dame, ranked No. 8 in The Associated Press' latest poll, will play the Southwest Conference champion, either Texas or Arkansas, both 9-0.

No. 2 Texas and No. 3 Arkansas square off at Fayetteville, Ark., for the title Dec. 6. The loser will play No. 13 Mississippi pi, which stunned previously unbeaten Tennessee 38-0 last Saturday, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Most of the major bowl matchups were quickly settled Monday shortly after the passing of the 12 noon EST deadline imposed by the NCAA.

No. 4 Penn State, 8-0, was paired against No. 7 Missouri, 8-1 and co-leader of the Big Eight, in the Orange Bowl at Miami, and No. 9 Tennessee agreed to play No. 15 Florida, 7-1, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 27.

The Rose Bowl, the granddaddy of them all, won't be firmed up until this weekend.

No. 5 Southern California, 8-0-1, meets No. 6 UCLA, 8-0-1 Saturday for the Pacific-8 championship and the host spot in the Rose Bowl.

Top-ranked Ohio State, which already has clinched a share of the Big Ten championship, is barred from a repeat visit to Pasadena because of the league's no-repeat rule. No. 12

Michigan, 7-2, plays the Buckeyes Saturday and a victory would assure the Wolverines the trip.

Even a creditable performance against the Buckeyes would probably send Michigan to the bowl because the league's other top candidate, No. 17 Purdue, was wallowed by the Bucks 42-14 last weekend.

Auburn, Georgia and Alabama—all from the talent-rich Southeastern Conference—and Nebraska, the other co-leader in the Big eight, gobbled up lesser bowl bids.

No. 11 Auburn, 7-2, will play Houston, 6-2, in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston Dec. 31; Alabama, 6-3, will be the host team in the Liberty Bowl at Memphis Dec. 13 against the winner of Saturday's Kansas State-Colorado game, and No. 17 Nebraska, 7-2, takes on Georgia, 5-3-1, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 20.

South Carolina, 6-3, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, will play in the Peach Bowl at Atlanta Dec. 30. No. 10 Louisiana State, shutout by the glamour bowls despite a gaudy 9-1 record, has been mentioned as a possible foe.

But Coach Charlie McClendon of the left out Tigers said: "Right now our boys are so mad and despondent I don't think they would even accept a bid to the Rose Bowl."

Notre Dame is making its first post-season appearance since the famed Four Horsemen & Co. defeated Stanford 27-10 in the 1925 Rose Bowl.

Money was the prime reason for lifting the ban. The Irish will probably get around $350,000 from the game, and school officials said it will be used to finance minority student programs and scholarships.

Penn State, the pride of the East, is making its second straight visit to the Orange Bowl. The Nittany Lions escaped with a 15-14 victory over Kansas last New Year's Night in the famous 12th man on the field incident.

Tom Dempsey's Half Foot Proves Winner For Saints

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tom Dempsey turned his handicap into an asset — both for himself and the New Orleans Saints.

Dempsey was born minus a right hand and half of his right foot. He doesn't kick about the birth defect, but he does kick field goals. Long ones, too.

He kicked four Sunday in Yankee Stadium, the final one from 19 yards out with five seconds left to give the Saints a 25-24 upset of the New York Giants in National Football League action.

"I'm glad I could contribute something to the victory," the modest Dempsey said today in recalling his game-winning efforts.

Coach Tom Fears makes no bones about his pleasure with Dempsey, who was signed in training camp at San Diego in August after being cut by the American Football League Chargers.

Dempsey believes he swings his leg through a football faster than anybody has. He gets a tremendous lift out of his kicks when his half-foot strikes the ball just above the ground.

"I do a little hop step and I get up on the toes of my left foot and drive through the football with my whole body," he explains.

"It also helps to weigh 265 pounds."

Dempsey, despite his handicaps, started playing football as a kid in California. It wasn't until he got to Palomar, Calif., Junior College though that he started kicking. "I just tried it one day in practice and found out I could do it."

Dempsey, as a Saint, already has a 55-yard field goal to his credit. That's a yard shy of the NFL record of 56 yards. Playing for the Lowell, Mass., Giants of the minor league Atlantic Coast Conference two years ago, he was credited with a 57-yarder against Waterbury, Conn.

Guggenheim Sells Thoroughbred Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — Capt. Harry Guggenheim, whose Cain Hoy silks were carried by more than 500 winners earning more than $6 million in 35 years of racing, has disposed of his thoroughbred stock for $1,779,000, an average of $31.210.

In the sale at Belmont Park Monday 27 horses of racing age brought $821,000 for an average of $30,408 and 30 yearlings brought $958,000 for a $31,933 average, with the top price being $175,000 for an unraced 2-year-old filly.

The filly, named Ribot's Fan, by Ribot, sire of Arts and Letters and Tom Rolfe, and out of Fantan by Ambiorix, was purchased by Robert J. Kleberg Jr., master of King Ranch, another famed name in racing.

Seattle Pilots Stock Is Sold

SEATTLE (AP) — Majority control of the Seattle Pilots baseball team has been signed over to a group of Seattleites headed by theater owner Fred Danz.

Danz said Monday that about 75 per cent of the club's stock will be transferred to the Seattle group if the American League approves the sale at its Dec. 4 meeting in Bal Harbor, Fla.

The purchase price was not disclosed, but reports were that Seattle group agreed to pay 10.3 million for the club.

Easter Seal Convention Scheduled In Columbus

Top business and government officials, as well as leaders in the rehabilitation field will be present for the Golden Anniversary Convention Program of the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults which will be in progress Wednesday through Saturday at the Sheraton-Columbus Hotel, Columbus.

The convention theme, "Promise for Tomorrow," promises an exciting outlook today on the activities and programs of the Society.

The schedule includes a program for nurses, social workers, volunteers, parents and health and education planners which includes a probing look at "Man and His Environment - Promise For Tomorrow."

The present-day Easter Seal

Plan Setdown

Conrad and Bean inspected the landing craft six hours after Apollo 12 swept into lunar orbit which prompted outbursts of awe and enthusiasm from all three as they gazed at the wild and wondrous landscape below.

Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. displayed similar emotions as they gazed down at the wild and wondrous landscape below and then turned on a color television camera to share the view with earthlings a quarter-million miles away.

The 30-minute telecast followed the course of Apollo 12 as it moved across a narrow band, moving from east to west. Large and small craters, rugged mountains and flat plains were visible as the camera panned across the desolate landscape.

"Even in earth orbit at night or in the daytime, the sky was never as black as it is here," Conrad reported. "This is the blackest black I ever saw."

For Conrad and Bean the view from 70 miles high was a preview for their attempt to land on the eastern shore of the Ocean of Storms.

They are to separate the landing craft Intrepid from the command ship Yankee Clipper at 11:16 p. m. tonight. For more than 2½ hours they will keep the world in suspense as they execute maneuvers on the dangerous and difficult descent.

Their goal is a pinpoint landing near an unnamed crater, an area described by Conrad before the flight as "gently rolling, pocked with small craters, but relatively smooth."

The astronauts have dubbed the landing target "Pete's Parking Lot" because it is Conrad, the Apollo 12 commander, who must steer Intrepid to the touchdown.

Using new procedures, the astronauts hope to overcome the four-mile landing error of Apollo 11 last July and park close to a 600-foot-wide crater which is the home of an unmanned Surveyor spacecraft which soft-landed on the moon 2½ years ago.

The stage was set for man's second attempt to land on the moon at 10:47 p. m. Monday night when Conrad, Gordon and Bean triggered Yankee Clipper's big engine on the lunar backside and swept into an initial orbit ranging from 72 to 194 miles above the surface.

It wasn't until 18 minutes later, when Apollo 12 reappeared around the edge of the moon, that orbit was confirmed. Conrad's voice broke the silence. "Yankee Clipper with Intrepid in tow has arrived on time."

"I guess that like everyone else who has just arrived, the three of us are plastered to the windows just looking," he added. "For naval troops, it doesn't look like a very good place to pull liberty, though."

Some 35 B52 bombers pummeled North Vietnamese troop concentrations, with more than 1,000 tons of bombs, while sharp fighting broke out to the south and east of Loc Ninh.

A lead platoon of 35 U.S. air cavalrymen suffered six men killed and eight wounded when they walked into a heavily camouflaged North Vietnamese bunker complex in War Zone C 60 miles northwest of Saigon. The Americans were hit with heavy rifle and machinegun fire and claymore mines. Three North Vietnamese soldiers were killed.

Other air cavalrymen in helicopters 90 miles northeast of Saigon spotted 30 North Vietnamese digging graves and called in artillery and air strikes on the burial party. At least three enemy were reported killed, and the air observers said they saw 55 other bodies awaiting burial. They were believed killed by air and artillery strikes Sunday.

Elsewhere, North Vietnamese troops attacked American infantrymen in night bivouac just below the demilitarized zone early Monday wounding 14 U.S. soldiers. Enemy losses were not known.

The U.S. Command reported a 145-man artillery battalion will return to the United States Wednesday for inactivation as part of President Nixon's second round of American troop withdrawals.

The 1st Battalion, 40th Field Artillery, will fly to McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash.

The unit, commanded by Lt. Col. James E. Davis of Fall River, Mass., will be inactivated at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Solon's Wife Is Arrested As Marcher

WASHINGTON (AP) Mrs. Philip A. Hart, wife of the Michigan senator, heiress, pilot, anthropologist student and mother of eight, has achieved yet another distinction—her arrest during a peace demonstration at the Pentagon.

Explaining her first brush with the law except for a few minor traffic violations, the slender, 47-year-old blonde said: "The point of it was to have a mass for peace to bring the idea of peace and love of God into this house of death."

Instead, along with 185 others at the "Mass for Peace" she was arrested. Charged with violating a General Services Administration rule against blocking a corridor, Jane Hart pleaded not guilty.

How did Mr. Hart, the senator, feel about his wife's antiwar activities last Thursday? "He didn't say much," Mrs. Hart said. "I don't remember what he said, actually." Mrs. Hart, however, said she would be "enthusiastic" about a repeat Pentagon demonstration, calling the Defense headquarters a "house of death."

Former Resident Gets Promotion

Mr. Oliver E. Brown, Indianapolis, Ind., has been appointed Warehouse Manager of the Federal Mogul Co. in Chicago.

Mr. Brown started with Federal Mogul in the Columbus branch in 1946 as a shipping clerk. He progressed to Columbus Branch Manager in 1956 and became Indianapolis Branch Manager in 1964.

He is married to the former Mary Lou McCain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David McCain of Asheville, and has two daughters, Pam, 14, and Carolyn, 5.

Haynsworth Maintains Quiet On Nomination

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—As the Senate debates his nomination as a Supreme Court justice, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. maintains a quiet routine in Greenville.

He spends long hours at his law office and seldom discusses the controversy swirling around him.

The routine includes a daily telephone call from the office of Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., who proposed the nomination of the Greenville jurist to President Nixon.

Haynsworth is told by either Hollings or an aide of the latest developments — which senators might be expected to vote for him and which will oppose the confirmation.

Some of the calls this week have not been encouraging. "Things are bleak," a Hollings aide said. "The vote is very, very close."

Haynsworth, who once spent leisure time bird-watching, raising camellias and listening to classical music, now spends much of his time at home poring over hundreds of letters he has received from friends and foes. He answers only those critical of him.

Haynsworth infrequently attended parties in Greenville, while the attack on him was developing but now it is rare for him to attend social events. And, Haynsworth is granting no interviews.

A misunderstanding, he told one newsman, could add to his troubles.

Friends, happy to speak with newsmen only two weeks ago, now say little except to express hope Haynsworth will be confirmed. Mrs. Haynsworth declined to be quoted about the matter.

One man who knows Haynsworth well said the nominee is still "frankly puzzled" over the controversy surrounding his nomination.

"It's been business as usual for him these past few weeks," said the friend, "but you can see he is a disillusioned man. He sees a lifetime of trying to do the right thing coming under attack. He expected to get fair treatment and that the facts, not emotionalism, would be the deciding factor."

Haynsworth, whose family founded Furman University, is chief judge of the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals which sits in Richmond, Va. He was excused from presiding when the court last convened during October.

Haynsworth says he is handling his legal work in Greenville, mostly writing opinions in cases heard before October and correspondence with fellow judges.

The jurist, whose opponents accuse him of conflict of interest between his judicial work and business dealings, said in a recent interview he takes comfort from reading about nominees whose confirmations also were debated at length.

"This is," said Haynsworth, "no fun to go through, as you might well suspect."

But he defended the right of the Senate to scrutinize carefully any nominee to the nation's highest court.

Hearing In Murder Case Ends; Husband Still Held

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A hearing into the shooting death of an ex-Playboy club bunny from Toledo, Ohio, ended its first session with the victim's husband, Dennis Calloway, 26, held on a charge of murder.

Calloway is charged with shooting his wife, Karen Lynn Calloway, 21, five times and dumping her body on the living room of her apartment last Friday.

Calloway, an Atlantan, said in a statement read in Municipal Court Monday that he was told to stay away from his wife by a bodyguard for Negro nightclub singer Jackie Wilson. The Calloways are white.

Wilson, appearing at an Atlanta "soul" club last week, was subpoenaed to the hearing by Judge R. E. Jones. However, Wilson collapsed before being called as a witness, and had to be taken to a hospital.

Henry Hill of Augusta, a burly Negro bodyguard for Wilson, said the entertainer had been given "knockout drops" by a physician who treated Wilson Monday for a neck condition. Jones ordered Wilson to appear in court Tuesday.

Attorneys for Calloway had a statement read in court which Calloway allegedly had made to police prior to the hearing.

The statement said Calloway went Wednesday night to the club where Wilson was performing, in an attempt to talk to Mrs. Calloway, and on arriving saw his wife in the company of two of Wilson's bodyguards.

"Bug out, man, Jackie doesn't like anyone messing around his women," the statement quoted one of Wilson's bodyguards as telling Calloway.

Calloway replied, "That's my wife and we have two children," the statement continued. "I'm not afraid of being hurt."

"It was your wife," the statement said Calloway was told.

Mrs. Calloway then went inside the club, the statement said, and Calloway drove on to the lot of the carpet company where he worked, and slept in his car.

A roommate of Mrs. Calloway, Playboy bunny Joy Bartlett, said at the hearing she and Mrs. Calloway went together to the victim's apartment Friday afternoon. As they entered, she said, Calloway stepped up from behind a door and pointed a pistol at her.

"I ran and he grabbed me by the hair and pulled some of it out," she said. "Then he slammed the door. As I ran across the parking area, I heard shots."

Eggbornville Riled Up

EGGBORNSVILLE, Va. (AP) — If those Apollo 12 fellows get the moon all riled up again they'll have the angry masses of Eggbornville to deal with when they get home.

This isolated mountain community's entire population of 50 is preparing for the worst. After all, they'll tell you, after that Apollo 11 landing on the moon, Eggbornville had the worst rains and floods in its history.

Some Eggbornville residents spent the weekend stocking their houses from cellar to attic with food, water and wood in preparation for what one resident has predicted will be "the worst blizzard since '98."

One elderly Eggbornville woman paused as she carted firewood into her house and voiced angry disapproval of America's space scientists. "They don't know what they're doing," she growled. "They're foolin' around with things that don't concern them."

Not far down the road her neighbor was also stocking her house with provisions. "If them n a s t y n a u t s keep messin' around up there they're going to set the world on fire," she predicted.
